

Home Point Financial has recently been made aware of a third-party website called Doxo which claims to offer Bill Pay services to a variety of banks and other service providers for a fee. While Home Point's information is listed on their website, we are in no way affiliated with this website and furthermore are unable to control whether or not we receive payments from them possibly resulting in delinquent accounts, late fees, or negative credit reporting.

We recommend that you always make payments directly through Home Point's payment portal at my.hpfc.com. Home Point never charges a fee to make a payment and making the payment directly through us can ensure your payment is posted securely and timely.

If you have any questions, please contact our Customer Service at 800-686-2404. We are here to help with any questions. Thank you for being a valued Home Point customer!

Below is an example of the appearance of the Doxo website:
